

Colby Cox – Managing Partner & CMO

Colby Cox is the Founder and a Managing Partner at Convergence Investments, LLC, as well as an accomplished entrepreneur with a devout passion for starting and growing companies. Spending the majority of his career in real estate investment, Cox has developed more than $500 million worth of real estate assets since the formation of Convergence Investments in 2002. He led the growth of multiple ventures and investment funds over the past 15 years, including the Convergence Opportunity Fund platform. As a Managing Partner of Convergence Investments, he oversees the entirety of the firm’s real estate and private equity holdings, which currently total more than $150 million in assets under management. Cox also serves on the board of several nationally affiliated non-profits, and has appeared on boards and advisory panels for the US Green Building Council, and multiple privately held companies. He currently serves on the Resource Council and the Finance Committee for the Grand Teton National Park Foundation. Cox is a former member of the Kellogg Venture Community—a nonprofit entity which seeks to bridge the gap between innovation and capital for start-up companies. As a business owner, Cox is committed to the promotion of entrepreneurial leadership, and remains actively involved in several entrepreneurial learning and leadership organizations. Cox is also a member of the Young Presidents Organization, a group of approximately 20,000 members in more than 120 countries that strive for better leaders through education and idea exchange. He currently serves as Chairman of the Big Sky YPO Chapter, and is a member of the Jackson Hole YPO Chapter. Cox received a B.S. in Real Estate Finance and Construction Management from the University of Denver, where he was a 4 year starter and captain of their Division 1 lacrosse team. In 2009, he earned an M.B.A. from the Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University.